"Homebrew" card (Sorry about that to José!) Well, it fits with all of this collection of second hand, garage sale, and junk items — a real economy type hobby! José tells me that you were in the Pensacola area somewhere when we had the QSO — rather remarkable at that distance. I contacted a few while on the road, but all at the usual skip distances. It was really great to hear a familiar voice — the founder of the net, no less!

I have just turned my set off — dead as a mackerel tonight.

Hope things are going well for you and all the family. 73's Chet Wells

MCDONNELL DOUGLAS DC-10

The tri-jet DC-10 provides the highest level of passenger comfort in its 20-foot wide cabin. It carries up to 345 passengers at 600 mph over routes 300 to 6000 statute miles. The three advanced fanjet engines, providing 120,000 pounds of thrust or more, are smokeless, quieter and more efficient than earlier jets.

Hi Carole:

It took a while but I finally got through to you. Conditions were not good. Just after I talked to you the band faded right out.

I am sending a SASE for the net info. Hope I can get into the net some other time when the band is is better shape.

I did QSL my Stinger # as 361.

Navassa Island is located in the Windward passage between Jamaica and Haiti and is a separate DXCC country. It was first observed by Columbus and claimed by the U.S. under the Guano Act in 1852. Navassa guano workers rioted in September 1889, killing many supervisors. The subsequent mass murder trial in Baltimore sentenced the rioters to death, but the President of the U.S. commuted the sentences when he learned how the workers had been mistreated. The U.S. built a lighthouse on Navassa in 1917, described in the National Geographic, which was manned until the 1950's. The aerial photo of Navassa was taken by W4VN (WØEXD/KC4) during a recent DXpedition to the lonely outpost. The notch in the cliff is known as Lulu Bay. A 50 foot Jacob's ladder has to be scaled to land on Navassa. For a packet of reprints on Navassa, please send a green stamp, SAE, etc.

Returning to Cotton Belt (St. Louis Southwestern Railway) main line rails under steam for the first time in more than three decades, the home-built (Pine Bluff) 4-8-4 Northern-type locomotive 819 is shown making its maiden trip to Fordyce, Arkansas, in April, 1986. Rehabilitated over a 28-month period at a cost of nearly $140,000 in donated materials and 37,000 hours of volunteer labor, Cotton Belt locomotive 819's restoration was a project of the Cotton Belt Rail Historical Society. Built in the very shop building in which its rehabilitation later took place, the 819 was given by Cotton Belt to the city of Pine Bluff in 1955, and was placed in that city's Oakland Park until its resurrection began in December, 1983.

The Edison Tower

Edison, Middlesex County, New Jersey

The Edison Tower, located in the Menlo Park section of Edison Township, is on the exact site where Thomas A. Edison invented the first successful incandescent lamp. The 131-foot tower was erected in 1937 and dedicated as a National Historic Place in 1979. Some of Edison's inventions, including his early phonographs, are on display at the small museum located at the base of the tower.

Thanks for QSL-card! I'm terribly sorry for delay, I was away from home and came home just before Xmas. I've been busy, but now I have plenty of time to take care of things like this. Among all bankrupts I am also jobless at the moment so It is time to take care of QSLs and work on the bands. 0030 utc is bit late, and conditions are not good on 10 but I'm listening. T: Jari

Dear Carole Ann,

Hope you will pardon the unorthodox QSL card, but I thought you might like to see where we were. We made it to 16,000 feet on the volcano, then turned back due to a rain of ash. Except for burning out the HR2510 at 15,000 feet, which kept us from operating near the peak of the volcano, we had a great time. It was great fun chatting with you & the other hams in the states, & I'm still amazed that so many people were interested in our trip. There should be an article in one of the ham magazines in 2-3 months - I hope. Take care.

Hughes Flying Boat

Description: First designated HK-1 — later changed to H-4 when Henry Kaiser withdrew from the project. The Hughes Flying Boat is commonly called the "Spruce Goose".

The aircraft is a cargo-type flying boat designed to transport men and material over long distances. Originally conceived by Henry Kaiser (famous for the production of liberty ships) the aircraft was designed and constructed by Howard Hughes and his staff. The Hughes Flying Boat is of a single hull, eight-engine design, with a single vertical tail, fixed wing-tip floats, and full cantilever wing and tail surfaces. Entire airframe and surface structure are composed of laminated wood (primarily birch). All primary control surfaces except the flaps are fabric covered. The "Spruce Goose" hull is divided into two (2) areas: a flight deck for the operating crew and a large cargo deck. Access between the two decks is provided by a circular stairway. Below the cargo deck are fuel bays divided by watertight bulkheads.

Dimensions:
Wingspan: 319.92′ (97.54m)
Fuselage: 219′ (66.75m)
Tailspan: 113.5′
Vertical Tailspan: 49.5′
Gross Weight: Approx. 400,000 lbs. (181,440 kg.)
Fuselage Height: Approx. 30′ (9.14m.)

Performance:
Design Cruising Speed: Approx. 200 mph (322km/h)
Landing Speed at Sea Level: 10% above stall with 45° flap 81 to 87 mph.
Maximum Range: Approx. 3,000 miles
Endurance in Hours at Best Cruising Speed: 20.9 hrs.
Maximum Service Ceiling: 20,900 ft.
Maximum Rate of Climb at Sea Level: Approx. 1,000 ft/min

Engines: 8 Pratt and Whitney R-4360's rated at 3,000 h.p. each. Largest radial reciprocating engines ever built.

Propellers: 8 four-bladed Hamilton Standards, diameter 17′2″. The four inboard propellers have reverse pitch capability.

History: November 16, 1942 — Kaiser-Hughes Corporation contracts with U.S. Government to build 3 HK-1's (Kaiser-Hughes, 1st aircraft). 18 million dollars made available through the Defense Plant Corporation. The contract stipulated the aircraft were to be built of material non-critical to the war effort.

The Hughes Flying Boat shown being placed in the world's largest free-span aluminum dome where it is exhibited by WCO Port Properties, Ltd. The unusual structure spans 415 feet in diameter and rises 130 feet in the air. 10-10 *2500

Amateur Radio Operation Aboard the Queen Mary

Requested by the Associated Radio Amateurs of Long Beach and the City of Long Beach, GB5QM was the only amateur radio station ever licensed for operation aboard the Queen Mary; this was for the Last Voyage. It was the first time Americans were licensed to operate aboard a British ship. W6RO, the club station, was operated aboard the ship on Feb. 21, 1971 as the ship was moved from dockside to her present location at Pier J. Operation of the reconstructed Wireless Room by the A.R.A. of Long Beach was officially started on April 22, 1979.

"GATEWAY TO A LAKELAND PARADISE"

Nipigon is the largest centre between Thunder Bay and Wawa on the Lake Superior Route. The Route, 1300 miles in length, completely encircles the largest fresh water lake in the world. Here, where the Nipigon River flowing 20 miles south from Lake Nipigon meets mighty Superior, is the most northerly point on the Route and is the gateway to the famous vacationland of the Thunder Bay District of Northern Ontario.

Carole,
The same comments as above, and also thank you very much for the beautiful and unique QSL card. The squirrels are adorable! I too love nature, I grew up in the mountains and I feel quite confined and deprived living in the city now. I hope to move to a more rural area someday maybe Idaho. Thanks for the brochure - maybe our boys will go to space camp someday. Hope to hear you on again

Hi Cacale + Jess

We also had a family of squirrels raised in our carport. Spent most of my time fighting the cats in the neighbor off. 3 made it + the 4th one fell out of the nest + had to be put to sleep as it broke its back. After they left the nest we boarded up the holes + keep them from making a new nest. They were sure cute. We enjoyed watching them grow. Take care + Luv for seeing our Vet
